Li Zongzhuang

Summary

This week I read some papers and learned java and python as well. I did the test on USACO to train my java programming ability. But the catching weibo task was still uncompleted. This made my schedule not work well. I also work with my graduate paper.

To Do List

I have a large problem on time managing, so that my time always wasted. Next week I will make the left works completed, and I'll overcome my disadvantage.
